Ghada Abu Hadid

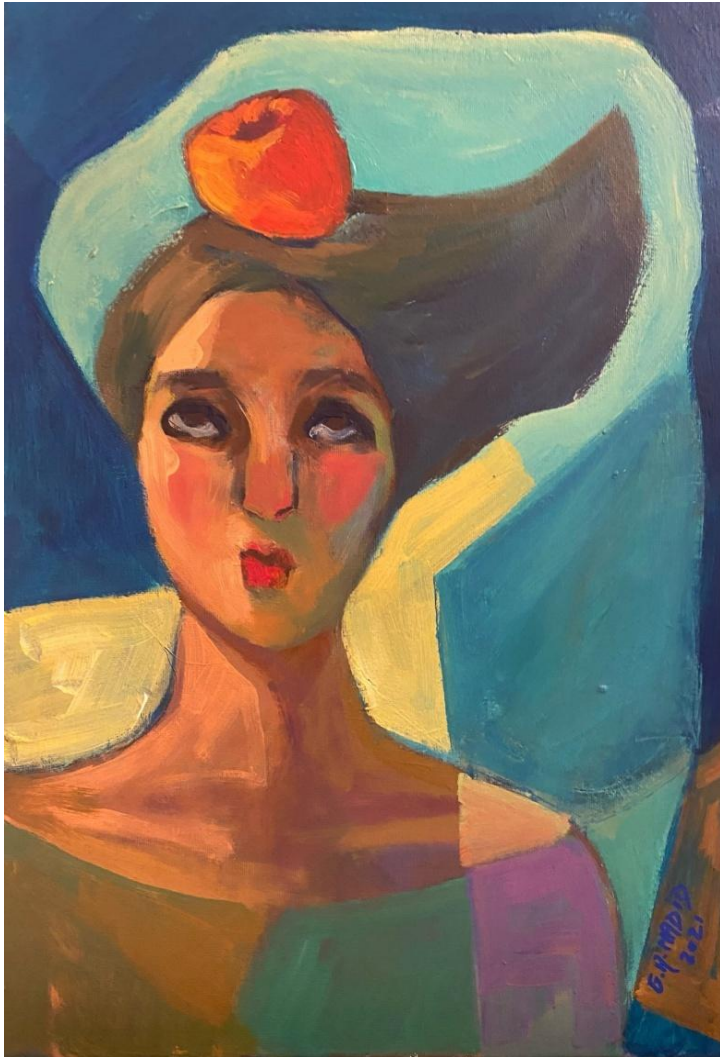

After graduating from the American University in Cairo, I devoted myself to studying the art of oil painting by joining several art courses with renowned Egyptian artists.

I participated in many group exhibitions in Salah Taher Hall, Al Hanager, the Greek Campus, the Russian Cultural Center and Cordoba Gallery.

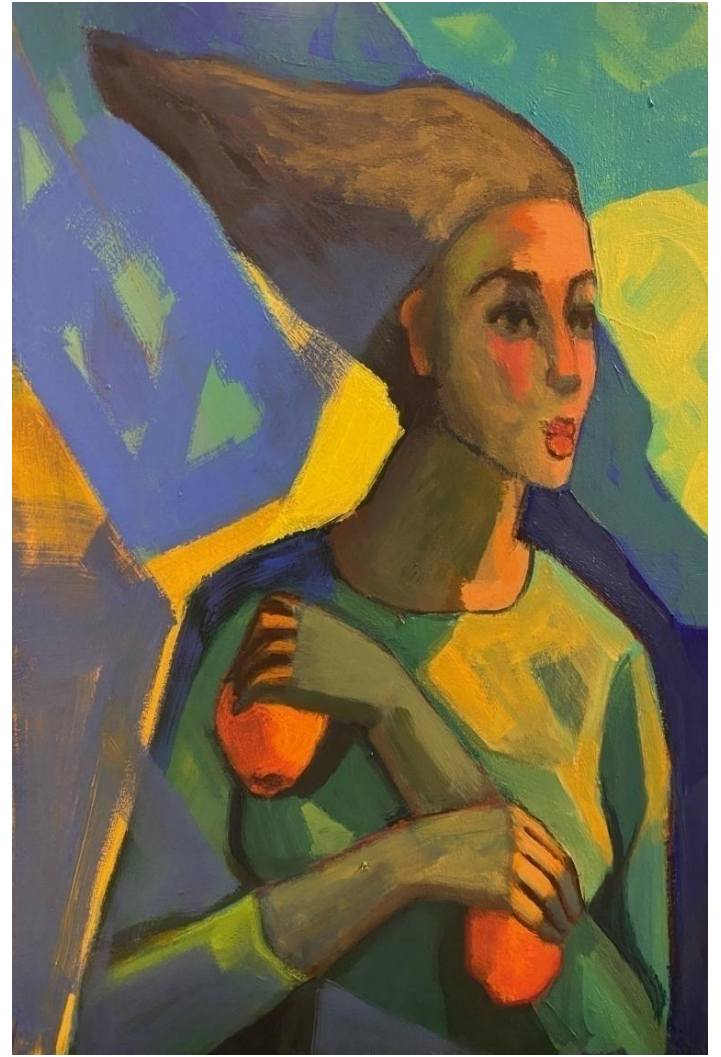

In 2014, I held a solo exhibition in the musical hall at the Cairo Opera House.

Initially, I was concerned with the characteristics that represent the Egyptian persona, both in its features and in the places they encounter.

Recently, I have had the urge for my paintings to feel more energetic, experimenting with emotions and concepts through line, color, texture and shape.
